Town Crier

By W. Gartrell

"Now two punctilious envoys, THINE and MINE,
Embroil the earth about a fancied LINE.
And, dwelling much on RIGHT and much on WRONG,
Prove how the RIGHT is chiefly with the STRONG."
—Boileau.

Though written more than two hundred years ago, these lines draw a true picture of current day problems and prove to us that axes are no new invention of the Devil and that the only assurance we have of peace is in being prepared for war.

The evening of the glorious Fourth is to be observed with a fine display of fireworks, sponsored by the Fire Department and made possible by the generosity of several persons in the community. Quoting a member of the department, "This is a community project and we hope everybody will come around to the grade school campus and enjoy the really fine show we are putting on. It will be free." A donation booth will be on the grounds and anyone having a house or barn that he DOES NOT want burned will do well to drop a few shakels therein, for the type of fire fighting equipment maintained by the Volunteers calls for continued and considerable outlay.

Praise be! We have found a fund fully adequate for the need intended, its existence never has been challenged and its importance is unquestioned, a discovery which, in this year of Grace and deficits, makes Columbus' poor efforts look like those of a piker.

Yes, indeed, years ago, the Loudoun County Board of Supervisors established an annual fund of $500 with which to defray out-of-town fire calls of then existing fire companies, it happened, Leesburg was the only company in existence and never has used more than a small part of the fund the remainder of which reverted to the county calls. Now Middleburg and Purcellville will meet Tuesday evening at Leesburg with the Leesburg Smokeaters and a plan will be

ANNE HILL'S SWEEPER IS WARRENTON CHAMPION

The Grand Championship of Warrenton's 20th, Annual Pony Show, "the oldest in America" was awarded to Miss Anne Dudley Hill's Sweeper, from the Quail Roost North Carolina Stables of Mr. and Mrs. George Watts Hill. Judges: Mrs. Fontaine Thraves, of Virginia Beach, E. M. Palmer, of Arlington and W. Lodge Bowles, of Boyce, did not arrive at this decision until after some deliberation had ensued. The Warrenton Pany Committee, headed by Miss Hope Wallach, President, Misses Jane Baldwin and Peggy Hamilton, Vice-Presidents, Clarke Baldwin, Sec'y., and Treas., and Miss Penelope Shaw, Assist.-Sec'y., went into a huddle in the middle of the

Wright's Valiant Is Best Hound At Essex

Simpson Dean And Charles Carver Judge Young Entry At Essex Hunt Kennels

The Essex Foxhounds Puppy Show was held last Sunday, June 25, at the Essex Hunt's Kennels. Weather conditions were ideal and a fine crowd turned out as Judges J. Simpson Dean, M.F.H. of Vicmeade Hunt and Charles Carver considered the young entry. William Wright of Bedminster Manor, Far Hills, N. J., not far from the Kennels, had the honor of walking not only the best dog Hound of the day, but to Valiant the Judges awarded the distinction of being the Best Hound of the day.

Valliant is by the good stallion Hound Trueboy, 1932, out of Vintage, 1935. Viceroy, considered the second best dog Hound of the day, is likewise of this Trueboy—Vintage cross, while the third best dog Hound was judged in Kingship, by Trueboy—out of Mr. Bywater's Virginia bitch, Kate 1932.

The best bitch of the 1939 entry was considered to be Tribby, by Mr. Rodes' Joe Kemper 1931, out of Mr. Bywater's Virginia Bitch Thisby, 1932. P. E. Johnson walked this Hound. The second best bitch in the young entry was Kindly, also of the Trueboy—Kate get. The third best bitch was Frenzy, by Trueboy—Flight, 1934.

PRINCE CHARMING SECOND CAPTURES OX RIDGE SHOW

The Edward V. Quinns, of Shrewsbury, N. J. have a great string of show-ring performers in their Clareda Farm Hunters. The Quinns have enjoyed continued successes for the past several years. Two outstanding conformation hunters in Woodfellow and Prince Charming II have won many outstanding awards this year.

Last Friday, June 23, the first day of the Ox Ridge Hunt Horse Show, in Darien, Conn., it was Clareda's Woodfellow who won the major ribbons to be the best in the big field. With Woodfellow, retired from competition on Saturday, Prince Charming II, his stablemate, came through with faultless performances to take the Conformation Hunters, the Corinthian and $350 Hunter Stake. Miss Charlotte Ives Montgomery and Maloney had the mount and rode him to his repeat Championship performance at Ox Ridge. Last year his stablemate Woodfellow was the Reserve.

The Reserve Hunter Championship this year was won by Miss Anne Miller's Orphan Boy, winner of the tri-

Rioter Victorious At Delaware Park Over Annibal

Indian River 'Chase Goes To Mr. Hitchcock's Son Of Reflector After Setting Fast Early Pace

Delaware Park racing fans had another look at Annibal, winner of last season's revivals of the Belmont Park Grand National. The Corinthian, Manly Memorial and Chevy Chase Steeplechases for Thomas Hitchcock, Sr., and that was all. The accepted fencing Champion of the country in 1938, who didn't look like a champion at all Wednesday the week previous as Gay Charles and Torturer bested him in the second Georgetown Steeplechase, ran less convincingly in The Indian River as his stablemate pace-setter Rioter stole the show.

With Jockey Mason aboard, Rioter went out to set a stinging pace, jumping the first six fences at great speed and accomplishing these big brush obstacles in an easy manner, more in style of a hurdle-horse. Rioter was supposed to come back and then it was that Annibal, with the country's great amateur Rigan McKinney up, was to go to the front and win as he pleased. This was the way Mr. Hitchcock had anticipated the running of this $6,000 added Stake, but he had not taken into consideration the form that the "ugly duckling" Rioter, had for the day.

The 7 year old son of Reflector picked up 150 pounds and galloped the fastest 2 1-2 miles yet turned in

WOODFELLOW CHAMPION OF TROY HORSE SHOW

Clareda Farm's Woodfellow stood before the 20th. Annual gates of Troy's Horse Show, to be regarded highly by the Judges and then perform so consistently well that he was not to be other than the Champion. Under the auspices of the Troy Junior League, N. Y., the show came to a close last Sunday, June 18th., with May Top Stable's Lord Britain The Reserve.

Outstanding during the earlier part of the show was the stable of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kennedy of Dedham Mass. Their Erin's Son and Little Squire, winner of the Jumper Tri-Color, ridden by their man Walsh, to open jumping ribbons and their Hallow Gold defeated Thunder Queen from the Edward V. Quinns' Clareda Farm, of Shrewsbury, N. J. in the Middle and Heavy-weight class. Prince Charming II, of Clareda's striking his strides of previous years, turned in some impeccable performances throughout the Troy fixture and turned back as good as Mrs. Mayer's Lord Britian, from the Port Chester stables.

Cagliostro Hurdle At Aqueduct To Brown Prince

John Brown's South American 'Chaser Defeats Walkaway In Third Straight Victory

"The toughest of hurdle horses" John W. Brown's South American importation Brown Prince III raced to his third straight triumph last Saturday when he turned back John Bosley's Walkaway, after giving away all of 32 pounds to that former winner, in the $2,000 added Cagliostro Hurdle Handicap at Aqueduct. W. G. Jones' Kingsem was third over Mrs. Reginald Sinclair's Noction who finished ahead of John Hay Whitney's Sweetie Pie, the only other starter.

Having scored his maiden triumph at the Queen's County track on June 13, only to repeat his performance there three days later in the George Eno Hurdle Race, Brown Prince III was sent out this time under the heavy impost of 163 pounds and favorite at 9 to 10. At the start of the mile and three quarters test, trainer-rider Hayhurst went to the front with Noction, closely pressed by Sweetie Pie, and the two set a rapid pace as they drew into a long lead over the other three.

After the lower end of the course had been reached, Sweetie Pie began dropping back and presently Jockey Murdock made his move with Brown Prince III. As the upper turn was rounded a sharp duel ensued between the eventual winner and Noction who was fighting hard to retain his advantage, but he was no match after his gruelling early pace. Walkaway, with Penrod up, was closing ground, as was Kingsem, but could not reach Brown Prince III whose victory was by a three length margin.

In the mile and a half hurdle race on June 22 it was Kingsem, with

HASTY LASSIE CAPTURES TOLEDO SHOW TRI-COLOR

The Hasty House Farm stables of Mrs. A. E. Reuben in Toleo, wiped the eyes of invaders in the annual Toledo Horse Show at Caranor Hunt and Polo Club in Perrysburg, Ohio, last week-end, June 16 and 17, and defended the home honors so well that Judges decreed the tri-color should be worn by Hasty House's Hasty Lassie. This mare, winner of many ranking awards at the Devon Horse Show last month, was consistent throughout the Toledo affair and entered spirited competition with Chispin Oglebay's Holystone, of Gates Mills, O., winner of The Reserve.

Hasty Lassie accounted for four firsts in such events as the Thorough-

SUN LOVER WINS FASTEST KENT FOR 3-YEAR-OLDS AT DELAWARE

Millsdale Stables' Sun Beau Offspring Defeats Top Three-Year-Old Field In Kent Handicap Saturday, June 24th

Millsdale Stable's Sun Lover proved that he has some of the drive of his old daddy Sun Beau last Saturday at Delaware Park when he turned in the fastest Kent Handicap yet run there to defeat a select group of the nation's top 3-year-olds, including the Preakness-winning Chalcedon. Sun Lover came from behind to win from the stretch turn home, just as his daddy used to win. Backing up his recent performance in the Dwyer, when he ran second to Johnstown, Sun Lover flashed the mile and a sixteenth of the Kent in 1.44 4-5, taking the decision by a nose from the good Pilate colt Eight Thirty while Chalcedon, the favorite, was two lengths off for third and among the also rans were such other notables as Hash, Gilden Knight and Third Degree. Further, counting this latest achievement, which netted him $8,975, Sun Lover has never finished worse than third in his last eight starts, being twice first, four times second and twice in the show, a record that has steadily brought him to the top ranks among the year's 3-year-olds.

The son of another famous Court Manor sire accounted for the stake immediately following the Kent at Delaware last Saturday when Fairfield Stable's 4-year-old Lucky Omen, by *Gino, defeated Masked General and five others in his class in the $2,000 Powder House Handicap, covering the same mile and a sixteenth in 1.45. Lucky Omen is another colt whose performances have been consistent, as he has been first or second in each of his five starts so far this year.

Among the maiden two-year-olds who graduated this past week were two Pompey fillies, one Abram S. Hewitt's Pomiva who scored at Delaware Park on June 22, and the other G. G. Waugh's Pompey's Rose who triumphed at Charles Town on June 23. Also on June 23, Willis Sharpe Kilmer's *Sun Briar filly Sun Patty stepped from the juvenile maiden ranks at Suffolk Downs while on Monday last W. E. Boeing's Time Maker colt The Malabat turned in a winning performance with his first outing at Aqueduct and H. B. Langdon's Groucher filly Grouchy Girl galloped to her first victory at Charles Town.

Following are lists of winners by Virginia and Maryland sires which have scored during the past seven days from Wednesday, June 21, through Tuesday, June 27.

STATUS OF JUDGES IN ADVISEMENT IN QUESTIONNAIRE

Adrian Van Sinderen Proposes Possible Change In American Horse Shows Assn. Rules

The American Horse Shows Assn., has invited the attention of Exhibitors in Member Shows to the rule regarding a Judge shall not officiate at a show in any class in which is shown a horse belonging to a stable or owner with which he has had any financial transaction in connection with the purchase or sale of a horse within twelve months of the date of the show. This rule was passed by the Directors of the Association, as rule XVI, Section 20. The Association desired to provide for exhibitors fair judgement based upon impartiality on the part of the Judge, and they felt that financial transactions between exhibitor and Judge in connection with horses lent a partiality to a Judge's consideration in connection with the horses of such an exhibitor.

Nevertheless it is realized that many of the good Judges are also dealers in horses or raise a few horses annually for sale and that the above rule as now worded limits the number of Judges available although it enhances and protects exhibitors. The question is then raised as to whether exhibitors and show managements feel that on the whole the present rule is desired or whether they prefer to amend it or eliminate it and merely keep Section 18 which reads as follows: "A Judge shall not officiate at a show in any class in which is shown a horse sold by him within twelve months of the date of the show."

In an endeavor to ascertain the feeling of the individual members of the Association, upon this point, Horse Show, the official publication of the American Horse Shows Assn., Inc. is conducting an inquiry and invites an expression of opinion upon the matter which is brought to their attention by President Adrian Van Sinderen. Attention of The Chronicle readers is directed to the restriction that only the replies of Senior Members of the American Association will be considered or tabulated. Individual Membership in the Association is open to all at a cost of $5. a year and this fee brings with it the Association's Rule Book 1939 Edition, the Association's Magazine Horse Show and the other privileges of Membership.

Hunting Notes:-

Mr. Newbold Ely's Hounds

Breeding calls for boldness, independence of judgment and a certain courage of one's convictions. Patience there must be, and a regard for what has already been established, but the truly constructive breeder must be prepared to experiment for many years before he can say truthfully that he has developed a great pack. Of these characteristics is W. Newbold Ely, Jr., who has taken the dilemma with which all Hound men find themselves faced, the problem of appearance and hunting qualities, and turned determinedly away from any thought of appearance. Hound breeding is perhaps one of the most difficult and discouraging of all the arts, for the desire first of all to secure a good hunting Hound must run counter to the equally natural and praiseworthy motive to breed a dog that shapes up well with the rest of the pack.

The Master of Mr. Newbold Ely's Hounds must be one of the few Masters in the country who are so determined to completely disregard appearance, at least for the time being, for those much to be desired characteristics of the great hunting Hound, nose, cry, stamina, determination and drive.

Mr. Ely has show ribbon winners in his pack and has won on the flags. His Gypsy, imported from Lord Davies Hounds in England was champion bitch last year at both the New York and Bryn Mawr Shows, but he is willing to give up all the Bench Show ribbons in the world for hunting characteristics. These bloodlines seem in demand as drafts have gone this season to some of the best American, English and crossbred packs in the East, as well as Hounds to such scattered points as Oregon, Arizona, Kentucky, Mississippi, Brazil, India and Cuba.

This summer in the kennels outside of Ambler, Pennsylvania, are a new entry of 17 couple. Their summer quarters are ideal with ample room in a large outdoor pen with plenty of shade in a woods for Hounds to lie and keep cool. The new entry is a good cross section of what it takes to collect a pack of individual hunting Hounds whose sole reason for being there is their ability to hunt, without regard to color, type, or blood strain.

There is no point in saying that Mr. Ely's Hounds are a uniform lot. Such a conventional phrase would be far from the case. They are not, and this able Master who has carried the horn himself for 26 years would be the first to agree. Mr. Ely is now using two splendid big Welsh stallion Hounds, Nimrod and Windsor, the former was said to be the second best dog Hound in Wales and the latter has never won a ribbon on the Bench. They are fine, full bodied, big boned, but due to the English and American bitches used, the new entry does not resemble them although there are five of the puppies who are beautiful specimens and should win on the flags.

The variety of English, American and Welsh blood is so marked, that at first it would seem to be impossible to evolve an orderly system of breeding, but a system there is, and one in which some day, should have the result of a great hunting pack of fairly uniform appearance for Mr. Ely's days of experimentation for the best possible strains to create good hunting dogs are approaching completion.

As you stand with the Master at his Kennel door and listen as he calls his various puppies to him, and as you see each come flying out of the woods at the sound of his name, you realize that here is order, workmanlike order, the kind to produce good sport. "Appearance is not a factor," you will hear the Master say, "I want hunting characteristics."

He has been after this now for 26 years for Mr. Ely has been hunting his own Hounds since 1913 when with the Deputy Game Warden, they commenced hunting in Bucks County with 4½ couple of Foxhounds. Enthusiasm emanates from this Master, one of the most original breeders and one of the most pronounced in his views. It is not the enthusiasm of the moment, but the keenness that is coupled with knowledge of exactly what one wants plus the determination to have it. From that earliest day in school, when the woods and hills of Bucks County resounded to the cry of his Hounds, Newbold Ely worked with Hounds for their hunting characteristics. This was in 1913 and ever since, the Master of Mr. Newbold Ely's Hounds has been developing Hunting strains. During this period, Mr. Ely has used 1,400 Hounds and has consistently bred them for their hunting characteristics with complete disregard for appearance, in order to secure his present pack. The strains in this present pack Mr. Ely has been working on for the past 8 years with a definite object in view. He was looking for a pack that had the constitution of the English Hound with the speed, stamina and hunting characteristics of the American Hound.

Although he has been trying every known strain, against each other, the owner of this unusual Pennsylvania Pack has only been working on his present strains for 8 years. It was the Welsh Hound that first gave Mr. Ely an inkling of something better than he had been able to find elsewhere, the Welsh Hounds with their great shaggy coats, their big bodies, their large bone and their cry that sounds like bulls. They need this cry for in the mountainous regions in Wales where they have been bred for their great stamina as well as their cry for generations, these Hounds sometimes must hunt long distances over country that is impossible to follow them.

Today the foundation of the pack is Welsh and the two stallion Hounds being used are Welsh Hounds whose blood goes back to the finest of the Welsh strains, such as Glog Driller and Glog Nimrod. Windsor was brought back from the Pantysgallog after Mr. Ely had seen him hunt in Wales where his grandparents were champions. Nimrod is the other Hound being used as a stallion. He was given Mr. Ely by Mr. Rees, the president of the Welsh Hound Association. They are fine, big, useful looking Hounds and have plenty of speed. In fact, when put with an American Drag Pack recently made up of English and American Hounds, the Welsh Hounds ran ahead of the entire pack.

Curiously enough the Welsh Hound came originally from France and evidence of this French influence can still be seen today in the names of many of the Hounds that have the French circumflex over the vowels. The Glog Nimrod has a circumflex over the o in Glog. This early French Hound imported to Wales, was mixed with the Fell Hounds. This mixture brings them close to some of our present American Hounds as the Walker Hound has Fell blood, and the Pennsylvania and Maryland Hounds come largely from France.

Mr. Ely's first experience with Welsh Hounds was not satisfactory. He secured a considerable number of Welsh Hounds in this country. The Hounds had had nothing done with them for some time and were wild as hawks although Mr. Ely did not know this at that time. Mr. Ely was convinced that the best of the Welsh blood had something to offer that he could not secure in this country and he went to great pains to discover where he could secure the best Welsh strains. His patience has been rewarded for now he has such pure Welsh Hounds in his pack as Tactful, a ten year old bitch, that is still one of the fastest Hounds he has ever seen.

In addition to the Welsh strain, Mr. Ely secured a considerable proportion of the old Radnor pack that had been developed over a number of years from the Pennsylvania Hound. Of these, Dreamy has proven an excellent brood bitch. Another Welsh strain is from a bitch called Gypsy, imported by Mr. Ely from Lord Davies Hounds in England. This Hound won the championship in New York and at Bryn Mawr last year. Using the Welsh Hounds as stallions and Welsh American and English bitches, Mr. Ely has been securing litters that are almost all coated. Mr. Ely has found that the speed of the Hound is in no way influenced by the coat and that in hot weather, the rough coated Hound is not influenced any more than the smooth coat, the smooth ones flopping into water when hot with the same alacrity as the rough. In a comparatively few years, Mr. Ely expects to have the entire pack rough coated. By that time, they will be far more uniform than they are at the present time, as the present system of cross breeding from the various strains is practically concluded as Mr. Ely feels that he has the blood in his present pack that will make his pack practically independent for some time of any further cross breeding with other Hounds than his own.

The theory behind this mixture of Mr. Ely's is quite simple, but in its simplicity lies the innate strength which should secure good hunting for Mr. Newbold Ely's Hounds in years to come.

In Wales, the country is so rough that the Hounds must be of great strength to be able to hunt all day. Moreover, the hills and mountains often preclude Hounds being lifted as it is impossible to get to them. To Mr. Ely's way of thinking, the Welsh provides the ideal combination when combined with the English or American Hound. The nose and cry of the American is in the Welsh Hound and the great stamina and bone of the English. The best of the Welsh blood, tracing to the Glog, has the strength and ability to fly fences like a horse and often in Wales, these great Welsh Hounds fly their gates in much the same manner as the horse. A final aid in the Welsh Hound is its comparative ease to break on riot. This comes naturally due to the amount of deer in Wales which the Welsh Hound must be broken from and if they are broken from riot on deer, to stop riot is comparatively easy.

"There is a lot in blood and type", Mr. Ely concluded as he shut the door on the last of his puppies, four of whom were fine, big Hounds by Windsor we had just been inspecting, "But we should be proud of any good Hound, no matter what blood he has."

Mr. Ely moved into his present country about 10 years ago. The country is about 27 miles by 25, a really huge territory which must be difficult to hunt over during a season. It is bounded by Quakertown on the East. The northern boundary ends four miles east of Reading and on the south the country comes down to Ambler. To The Chronicle, this work of Mr. Ely's was fascinating in its unconventionality. The Kennels for the puppies were spotlessly clean. There was nothing fancy, but there was a workmanlike air, about the outfit. What was most impressive was the alacrity with which the puppies answered to their names, coming singly from some distance in the shade of a wood across a stream to answer to their name. Such obedience speaks for many hours careful attention on the part of this Master who hunts his own pack and has been carrying the horn now for 26 years.

There is a lovely etching of Gypsy, the Welsh Hound from Lord Davies pack, given Mr. Ely in 1936. The bitch has a most appealing, intelligent face, full of real character. It is a lovely thing with its rather wistful expression, that has a certain patience and sweetness which is very marked and which explains, when once seen, the charm of this Welsh strain. There is another picture of Windsor, the big stallion Hound which is equally striking. It would be a rare treat to hunt some day with this pack and watch for those hunting characteristics which Mr. Ely has been so patiently striving through the years. Anything that is good is worthwhile developing, no matter the time, and certainly all foxhunters will agree that nothing can be better than a great hunting Foxhound. In the big rambling house under the trees at Ambler, Mr. Ely is carrying on a fine tradition, a tradition of good sportsmanship that goes back through many generations. How many can be seen on two lovely old Grandfather clocks in the hall one with a brass nameplate attached that bears the inscription William Newbold, 1776, and the other Hugh Ely, 1760.

Leading English Steeplechasing Rider Visits U. S. A. Notes Contrast In Racing

Danny Morgan Finds American Horses Running "On" The Turf And "Through" The Fences While English Run "In" And "Over"

Danny Morgan, one of England's greatest professionals in the steeplechasing game, who has finished the National in the past two successive years, has been visiting in this country, stopping with Louis Stoddard, Jr., in Long Island and the Robert B. Youngs, in Middleburg. A genuine horseman and sportsman, Danny Morgan had an opportunity to look in on the Aqueduct hurdle-racing, the United Hunts meeting in Roslyn, L. I., and likewise saw the running of the Georgetown and Indian River Steeplechase Stakes at Delaware Park. A veteran of a mere two hundred and fifty races this past season in England, when he rode fifty winners, Morgan naturally found considerable contrast in the American 'chasing, horses and courses.

The speed in which they go in the first part of the steeplechasing over here impressed the Britisher. "In England we prefer to lay off this sort of pace, ride our weights, wait until the last half-mile," said he, "and then it is that we try to produce 'em. Of course", he went on, "we do not have the going you have. Why, we wouldn't even have considered a meeting with the going like it was that day at United Hunts—too hard—frightfully so."

Morgan further brought out, that, the jumps in this country were very different, especially soft in the tops, enabling horses to carry into them, through them, at speed—sometimes going two feet into the tops. "We cannot do this in England, we must jump them, and naturally we must go slower."

The Delaware course to Danny Morgan "measured bigger than the National", but of course he proffered, "they go through so much of it." Asked if they run 2½ miles over 16 such jumps in 4.55 in England, as Rioter did last week in winning The Indian River, the answer came: "Hardly, you see we must run in the turf over there, ride a waiting race and jump over the fences."

Regarding this matter of the turf, it is soft, and they do not run on it, as over here. Morgan believed that if American horses were actually asked to jump the full height of such courses as the Delaware, that the concussion and shock of landing from such height would break down a great many more.

Actually, to a man who is only the third ranking rider in England this year, with Jerry Wilson (the leading rider over there for the past six seasons) heading him with 59 wins and some 350 starts and Fred Rummell the 1938-39 leader, with 61 wins, steeplechasing in this country could not but have looked insignificant. Still Danny was polite. He made none but the most kind comparisons. He stated that he had enjoyed his trip tremendously, but under contract to Ivor Anthony, one of England's greatest trainers, it was imperative that he must return to England this week. He is sailing to-day on the new Mauritania.

Steeplechasing begins in August in England, on the first Monday, bank-holiday. Actually, at the outset, there are but few races in August, but as the season wears on the schedule picks up and swings into earnest activity, especially in October. Then it is that park-racing and big-meetings fill the weeks, up to Whitmonday in June. During this time there are possibly more than two thousand races run over jumps.

Mr. Young took his guest out to have a look at the "Glenwood Park Course", which has been so beautifully developed here in Middleburg by Daniel C. Sands, M. F. H. The English rider was most impressed with the layout, likening it to some of the better park courses in his home country, especially the size and style of jumps.

Morgan is a strongly put up fellow, scaling, off season, possibly 140. Still he has no difficulty in making the bottom weights. (English handicapping weights run from 140 up to 175). Reticent, he warms slowly, but still he is not one to talk of his successes—and yet he is considered one of the best stylists over jumps and through the flat, in finishing 'em.

It was the visitor's pleasure to know Mr. Stoddard, Jr., in England. He spoke highly of this country's well known amateur-owner-up rider, (Mr. Stoddard rode his Blackcock to win the Glenwood National last fall), and had nothing but praise to offer of his performance in the Grand National last March with his Milano. The English rider said that Mr. Stoddard insisted on riding Milano—that he had come over to ride in the National—and so went to the post, even against the wishes and best judgment of Mr. Anthony. Start he did, and Mr. Stoddard had only been given instructions by Mr. Anthony for the first three jumps, as it did not seem humanly possible that Milano could go further. It is a matter of history now how Milano completed the first turn of the celebrated course and when well up in the running, fell at Beecher's the second time around.

When Mr. Stoddard's National effort is recognized by one with such talent as Danny Morgan, it comes from one of great authority and real experience. Morgan was up on Royal Mail that day, when Mr. Stoddard fell with Milano. He was riding Mrs. C. C. Evan's top-weighted (175 lbs.) favorite, who ran an excellent race, but found the impost too much in the final stages. He finished 7th, scarcely 27 lengths off the winner—Workman. Morgan did not have this much luck the year before, in 1938, when Battleship brought Mrs. Marion Scott such renown. On Bachelor Prince II that year, he finished tenth.

Asked whether he would like to try an American steeplechasing outing, the answer came quite positively enough: "Of course, but it's quite different." Having had all the varieties of mounts that come in England, the Britisher mused of an Irish trainer's instructions once: "An be shawure ye come back together." "He was a run-away. Most rapid horses steady at the water, but not this one. A known bad jumper, he jumped well that day, and we came back together."

On departing for Washington last Saturday night, Morgan advised The Chronicle of Bruce Hobbs' fine recovery. Suffering from a broken vertebra, sustained in a fall about a year ago, young Hobbs, the winning rider of Battleship, when the Man o'War'son won the Grand National, has convalesced well. "He has not put on much weight and should ride again" was the good news.

From Danny Morgan The Chronicle likewise learned of Mr. Stoddard's Straw Boss, one of very few steeplechasers ever to run in this country and in England all in the same year, and then to return to this country, to continue his successful campaigning. Straw Boss, a son of Carlaris—Enid, proved to be the outstanding four-year-old in England this spring. Among his triumphs was the Juvenile 'Chase down in Cheltenham and another good event in Cardiff Wales.

Straw Boss was brought back from England where his handicap weights were boosted above what the little horse could carry. Jockey Burns rode him to his maiden win in "The Fauquier Plate" in the Warrenton Gold Cup meeting, in 1938. He then was an also ran in "The Madrigal" at Aqueduct in June, when Eran de Perse led the field; won "The Pawnee Hurdle Race" with Mr. Cleland up on the 12th of June last year and was an also ran when Dolly's Love captured "The Cagliostro Handicap" on the 25th of the same month. Following this he was shipped to England, where he remained until this May. The gelding ships well and quickly came about to return to the races over here.

WOODFELLOW CHAMPION

The Little Canada Challenge Trophy, named for Mrs. Harry Frank Jr.'s famous hunter was won by Mademoiselle Maintenant, competing for the Dunwoodie Farm of Fayetteville N. Y. Accelerator, from the same stable, made it a one-two double in this class.

The Edward V. Quinns also had some younger horses making strong bids in the Hunter Division. Their Clifton's David led the Hunter Hack when Leaf Hanger, now belonging to Dunwoodie Farm, of Fayetteville, N. Y., and ridden by Miss Patricia Dunn placed second. Leaf Hanger was formerly owned by Horace Moffett, of Marshall, Va. Clifton's David also took the professional Horsemen's Assn., Challenge Cup by Annexing the Working Hunter Honors over the big outside course.

At the outset of the show Bartender, considered one of the country's greatest open horses, with Morton W. (Cappy) Smith up, took three blues in touch and out, triple bars and other contests. In these early classes, Little Squire, the eventual Champion, was always knocking at the door, second. Bartender did not place in the Stake, on the final day, and it is likely that he was scratched from activity during this time. In the Stake Little Squire took the honors, with Hi-Rock Pompo third, and Quen Sabe of the Rochester Cavalry second.

Claredda Farm had it all their way in the Hunter Stake of $300. value. Woodfellow went to the top and Prince Charming II was second. Maytop's Lord Britian was third and bested Mrs. Kennedy's Hallow Gold. This was a good class throughout. In the Ladies' it was Woodfellow again, Lord Britian second and Leaf Hanger of Dunwoodie third, while Hallow Gold closed the ribbon winners place with his fourth.

The Troy Show was considered one of the most highly successful events in the twenty year history. Great credit is due James W. Russell, Secretary-Treasurer and Mrs. Russell, Assistant Secretary, for their tireless and painstaking efforts to bring about Troy's fine success. Hon. Frank J. Hogan is Hon. President, while Capt. J. M. Keeley, is President and Joseph J. Murphy is Vice-President.

amateur William Jones in the saddle, who triumphed over Groton stable's Canio while S. A. Warner Baltazzi's Planter's Punch was third and others finishing were John Hay Whitney's Button Button, Mrs. Elizabeth Bosley's Toutemepal, Frank Gould's Jimmie Cabanss and Norman Cleland's Emmas Pet.

Kingsem moved up on the inside after being restrained for a half mile came around Canio, Button Button and Planter's Punch going to the fifth fence, took over the command thereafter and finished with speed in reserve.

Once again on Tuesday last Kingsem carried his owner's son Amateur Billy Jones and the pair came home winners of The Town Hall, mile and a half hurdle offering which brought out seven starters. Favorite in the betting, Kingsem carried topweight of 153 pounds and showed the way to Mrs. Hirsch Jacobs' Atophan, who took the place from S. A. Warner Baltazzi's Planter's Punch, ridden by Mr. Johnny Harrison. Others finishing in order were Mrs. Elizabeth Bosley's Toutemepal, Harold Talbott's Barricade II, Thomas Halliday's Flying Feathers and John Bosley's Le Passadou.

Mr. Jones restrained Kingsem back of the early running while Jockey Leonard set the pace on Atophan, closely followed by Mr. Harrison on Planter's Punch. Atophan continued to hold the lead until after the fourth fence was accomplished when Kingsem went to him and drew away to win by four lengths.

Five accepted the issue in Friday's steeplechase of about two miles and all completed the course but it was Greentree Stable's Homburg, W. Collins up all the way and taking the decision by a head from Harold E. Talbott's Big Rebel. Emile Pfizer's Farndale was third another three lengths away while Groton Stable's One Round and Gordon F. Perry's Wilfrid G. also ran.

Homburg went to the front from the drop of the flag and back of him was Big Rebel with Jockey Leonard retraining him under wraps. Back of them Wilfrid G. raced along ahead of Farndale and One Round dropped back of the field. Going into the backfield the second time, Homburg made a bad landing and almost lost his advantage, but Collins picked him up and he managed to outstay the oncoming Big Rebel in the closing stages.

WHY NOT BE ACCURATE?

Five people against one is not fair. Why one person did not take on Igor Cassini and figuratively knock his rather diminutive head off for writing insinuations against perfectly decent sporting people is hard to imagine. The damage is done now, post mortems are of no avail, but there is much to be said for the misguided reason of the five young sportsmen for attempting to settle their dispute with Mr. Cassini "out of school."

Society columnists have been reporting on sportsmen because the activities of these men and women is money in their pocket. It is news. Names make news and nobody knows it better than the newspapers. Witness the publicity given this unfortunate affair which, if names had not been attached would have hardly made the front page. If columnists are going to make their living by writing about well known men and women in the field of sport, at least they should endeavor to be accurate, to know of what they speak. They should not, by writing filth for the dollar they make, injure the reputation of a lot of innocent people.

To castigate the entire Warrenton community, which is made up of some of the finest men and women in the country, many of whose families have lived in Warrenton for generations, with such phrases as a community of "Free love" and "Drunken Hunt Breakfasts" is not helpful to anybody. The power of the almighty dollar is strong, but it is possible to make a living even writing without saying things that are unpleasant, untrue and oftentimes injurious. Columnists live on the publicity they secure. They know this. The publishers of newspapers know this and unfortunately it has been brought home only too often to people who have been libeled in the press, that a suit for libel against a newspaper columnist is the most welcome of all windfalls. It puts the columnist in the news. Mr. Cassini is now a famous columnist. His column will be widely read all over the land. For this reason, if not for any other, the tar and feathering by the five objectors to the kind of publicity that hurts but does not help, was not a good idea, but their five wrongs does not make harmful publicity right.

There are men and women in this country who do not happen to want to live in the city, spending their nights in cafes, but would rather enjoy life in the country, hunting, riding, or farming. They become fair game for columnists who do not know them in New York. They are the mysterious "hunting set", hard riding, hard drinking, hard living group who do desperate things. Their sport which is clean and fine, becomes the object of ridicule through the ignorance of writers who have not taken the trouble to learn of what they write. Their personal lives are made the cause of attack because they are living in the country rather than in the city where certainly there is just as much crime, self indulgence, drinking, and love making as there is on the farm, Cholly Knickerbocker or any other columnist to the contrary.

Mr. Cassini received a tar and feathering because he hurt innocent people. This mob action has been condemned because the law is meant to protect society. Unfortunately, the racket of people making their living by feeding on "dirt" has so far been too much for the law, so the Warrenton boys took their own ill-conceived action, as all red blooded Americans have ever been quick to do when the law fails them. There are good sportsmen and bad, but the majority of the people in Warrenton as well as in any other community who live in the out of doors, are as fine a group of Americans as can be found. They do not claim to be angels, but they are not hiding behind the immunity of the press or making a living by publicizing low talk, of which America is too full.

this year, in 4:55. This clipped 11 2-5 seconds of the time set by Torturer in winning the same event in 1938. Opposed by nine of the best 'chasers in the country, that could be mustered for this lengthy test, which included 16 big jumps, it was Roke-by Stable's Good Chance, with Jockey Roberts who chased the Hitchcock gelding home for the record breaking accomplishment. Torturer, of F. Ambrose Clark's barn, took the show award under a vigorous drive to lead home Annibal and Mr. McKinney, who couldn't find the necessary run in the grey, who was shouldering top weight with 166 pounds.

bred Hunter, when the National Horse Show Champion, Holystone was pinned second; the Ladies' with Mrs. Donald Ordway's Nuthatch, of Augusta, Mich., second and Holystone dropped to 4th; the $500 Stake, when Holystone went unplaced and William McCullough's Reagh Lee was second and the Misses Susan and Janey Briggs' Dutchess of Walbri third; and the Amateur Hunter, when Glenhill Farm's Glenhill Brownie was the place winner and Dutchess of Walbri close up for third.

A crowd of over 1,000 witnessed the events of closing night, despite the chilly weather. The final class was the $250 Jumpers Stake, won by Crispin Oglebay's Question. From Indianapolis, Ind., came George Sadlier's White Oak and from Rochester, Mich., came William B. McCullough's Glenn Lee to give strong competition to place in order back of Oglebay's sensational Question. Question likewise took the Handy Hunter event, which was held on the first day, and Glenn Lee was second and Miss Barbara Stranahan's Pickinny was third. Miss Stranahan of Toledo, rode her Pickinny mare to a triumphant blue in the Spring Brook Hunt Cup when a good field of locals were contending.

Hunt, of which Huntsman Thomas, Whipper-in Connors and Kennelman Kintzel complete the staff. The official season opens in October and continues through February. There are fifty couples of Hounds in the Kennels near Peapack. Hounds are being roaded these days, with the young entry coupled. The pack has benefited by the introduction of Orange County blood and Mr. Bywater's Virginia strain, doing away with much of the blue Tick and Trig that had predominated.

SWEEPER CHAMPION

Warrenton Horse Show Ring late last Saturday afternoon, in a typical juvenile manner and the ultimatum was that Miss Hill's Sweeper, Miss Patricia Burnham's Sweetheart and Dunnottar Farm's Huntress should be judged for conformation for Championship and Reserve.

Huntress, owned by Mrs. James Hamilton's Dunnottar Farm and ridden throughout the show by her daughter, Miss Peggy Hamilton, who received a smashing fall in the stake class and suffered a broken wrist, was the winner of the Hunter reserve. Miss Hamilton took this mean tumble when her Thane of Wales hit a plank fence and turned completely over in the air, landing rump first on the fair young rider's arm. Her ability at showing the Dunnottars was one of the bright spots of the show. Miss Hamilton's brother however, was not to be denied for his colorful personality was an added attraction. Jimmy Hamilton veritably stole the hearts of the audience as time after time he turned in faultless performances with Silver Queen. In the touch and go, Jimmy and Silver Queen beat a big field, and they had to go 3'-0" to get the blue and only after several jump-offs.

The Saddle Championship went to C. Oliver Iselin Jr.'s Peach Melba with the Reserve in this division going to Hugh Wiley's Prince.

color last March in Camden, and the unofficial Green Hunter Champion of the Devon Show. Miss Miller was an owner-up throughout and commenced winning blues on Friday, taking the Conformation Green, placing above Mrs. James J. Sexton's Iberis, later the winner of the Thoroughbred Hunter Hacks. Orphan Boy also was pinned at the top in the Lightweight (not to jump), with Morton Govern's Sere second. In the Conformation (other than thoroughbred) Hunters, Orphan Boy scored first in possibly his best win of the Show. Here he took the blue ahead of such well known first-class performers and conformation horses as Mrs. Harry Frank Jr.'s Our Way and Miss Peggy Klipstein's new acquisition in the veteran campaigner Stepaside, Reserve of last November's National, when she performed in the name of J. V. Bouvier III.

The Working Hunters honors hung between Mrs. Laning Harvey, Jr.'s Midkiff's Melody and Miss Klipstein's Stepaside from the start of the Show. On Saturday, Midkiff's Melody from the Kingston, Penna. stables of Mrs. Harvey's, with her owner up, won the Working Hunters, (amateurs to ride) and was second behind Mrs. Harry Frank, Jr.'s Clifton Beau, with Miss Patricia Boiling up, in the Working Lightweight showing. While Stepaside won ribbons throughout the show, they were scattered through the conformation, working and junior divisions and did not combine to give her a standing equal to Melody's in the Working.

Mrs. Gordon Wright's Sonny won the Open Jumper Championship, with 16 points, without placing in the Jumper Stake, which was won by Mrs. Edward Lasker's Modernistic, and who accounted for sufficient points to become Reserve Champion, only after winning the toss, when tied with Mrs. James J. Sexton, Jr.'s Pompeien. Modernistic went well, proving that he will carry on for Mrs. Lasker, just as he did last year for his recent owner, Julius Bliss, when his outstanding achievement was the winning of the Irish Free State Challenge Trophy at the Garden. Mrs. Lasker rode Modernistic.

Whitney Acquires Granville's Lease

Will Take Over Balance Of Term Of William Woodward's Stallion From Kenneth Gilpin

John Hay Whitney has taken over the balance of the five years lease of Granville, who has been standing at Kenneth N. Gilpin's Kentmere Farm, near Boyce, Va. This was made known this week by Mr. Gilpin who is having a complete dispersal of all his breeding stock at the Saratoga Sales, on Saturday, August 12th.

Since the death of *Teddy, son of Ajax, whose blood has become a dominant line on the American turf, Granville, by Gallant Fox—Gravita, has held court at the Kentmere establishment of Mr. Gilpin's near Boyce. Granville was retired from racing at three, following his successes over distances, up to a mile and a half, and as a grandson of the late *Teddy, he has carried on the blood of this famous French import in his sire duties.

Virginia horsemen endeavored to keep the son of Gallant Fox in the State, but several negotiations proved unsuccessful. Even up to the final agreement with Mr. Whitney, Mr. Gilpin had hopes of placing Granville with an Old Dominion breeder for the remainder of the lease.

It was Maj. Louie A. Beard, who manages the Whitney breeding interests, who made the inspection of Granville and the several yearlings and a number of his foals at Kentmere last week. Following his inspection, Major Beard, impressed with the development of Granville, likewise with the uniformity of his get, returned to New York to converse with Mr. Whitney.

With Mr. Whitney's decision to lease Granville, this will be the first time that any of the *Teddy line have been numbered among the sires in the Whitney Stud. Granville will leave for Kentucky on July 1st.

Granville's career on the turf was a short one. He did not enjoy much racing luck as a two year old. He lost his rider at the start of the Kentucky Derby and lost a nose decision to Teufel in the Wood Memorial, while Firethorn beat him by this much in the Suburban Handicap. Granville came through to prove his class in winning the Belmont, the Kenner, the Lawrence Realization, the Saratoga Cup, and the Travers, among other classics. In winning the Realization he struck the sessamoids of his near fore ankle. Following this injury, it was decided to retire him from racing. In December 1936, Granville came to Virginia where he has stood since and has a yearling crop going to Saratoga this year from Kentmere.

William Woodward believes that one of the best yearlings at Belair this year is a son of Granville.

31 CLASSES DRAW ENTRIES FOR 2 DAYS AT CULPEPER

The Culpeper Horse Show and Races will hold its 36th Annual Exhibition on Monday and Tuesday, July 3 and 4. Indications already point to the coming event as being one of the largest ever held in Culpeper, for entries have been made from some of the best hunter stables in the State, in the District and in nearby Maryland.

In the thirty-one classes, covering Breeding, Draft, Pony, Gaited, Hunter and Hunter Divisions, over $1,000 in prize money is to be competed for, with many fine trophies also going to winners of these events. A Championship is awarded in the Hunter Division, which was last year taken by Mrs. John Hay Whitney's The Bear.

The officials of the Show, of which Melville Church II, is President and John S. Thornton is Secretary-Treasurer, are working on a plan to insure classes to be run off on schedule. It has been decided to have conformation judged outside the show-ring, while another class is being put on. The winners will be brought back into the ring to receive awards, and the Judges will have all the time they want to go over horses and deliberate at length, if necessary. This method proved of great success at Deep Run's Horse Show.

Rocksie, the wonder hunter-jumper of Miss Margaret Cotter's, who but recently took the 6'-3" record in the Washington Show, and who was defeated in the jump-off at the Culpeper Show last year by Gay Cockade, owned by W. G. Bogert, will again compete for honors in the Culpeper Ring. Gay Cockade is likewise an entry.

Indicative of the increased interest in Heavy Draft Horses, the Culpeper Assn., has included a new class in the division, one for draft stallions, which is expected to attract wide interest. Two more new classes in the list of 31 are for ponies, one of these being a jumping event.

The Aberdeen-Angus cattle show, held in connection with the Show, which proved such a success last year will be repeated this July 3 and 4. Six classes are listed and entries will come from the best herds in the East, with at least two Grand Champions in the National Live Stock Show, Chicago, contending. A parade of these cattle will be held each day.

Two steeplechase races will be run, one a day, in connection with a four race card. The flat races are of 5 furlongs and one of 1 1-8 miles. The steeplechases over brush-hurdles, are over 2 1/2 miles in length, and carry purses of $125.

evolved by which all county fire companies will share in the Supervisors' largesse.

The Methodist church was the scene Saturday afternoon of a beautifully simple wedding at which Lillian Russell Hendricks and George Haufler made their vows before the bride's brother, Rev. John R. Hendricks. The youngsters have been, for the past two years, in Aruba, Netherlands, West Indies, Miss Hendricks a nurse in the Standard Oil Hospital there and Mr. Haufler a chemical engineer for Standard Oil. They made the long journey back to Virginia for their wedding and honeymoon. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kernan Hendricks of Glade Spring, Virginia and Mr. and Mrs. A. Elmer A. Haufler of East Orange, New Jersey came here for the occasion.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Anne Hendricks, of Glade Spring and the groom's sponsor was his brother, Edwin G. Haufler of East Orange. Mr. and Mrs. Haufler will return to Aruba the last part of July and will make their home there.

A car drove into a local filling station rather early Sunday morning and one of its travel-cramped occupants struggled out to walk around a bit and asked the station attendant, "Is this Middleburg? We saw the sign way back there, BUT WHERE IS THE TOWN AT?" Now, Now, what can we do to impress the passing public with our municipal importance?

Not many moons ago two boys were given the job of painting a picket fence green and set about the business of doing it one hot morning. As the heat increased, their energy departed and they decided to rest for awhile. Proving an idle brain the devil's workshop, soon they spied a colored lad, completely drunk and snoring on the back seat of an old Ford, his large bare feet hanging over the side of the car. Fetching up the paint pots, the boys soon had the dangling bare feet a vivid shade of green and the lad slept on. At long last he woke and, giving one startled look at his verdant feet, uttered a fervent "God A'mighty" and set them in motion for parts unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carter of Boston were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Collier.

Miss Betty Osborn has returned to her home at Farmville after having spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ashton.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Gray and small son, Russell, of Norfolk, called Monday evening on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gartrell.

Dr. E. C. Yost and Mrs. Yost will move with their family to Winchester this week.

M. S. Reed expects to come soon from Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital where he has been a patient for the past ten days.

Fourteen members of Boy Scout Troop No. 165 left Sunday to spend two weeks at Camp Roosevelt, on Chesapeake Bay.

In The Country:-

Mrs. Eva Shaffer Spilman, whose "Byrney Farm" is being transformed by Jimmy Thompson, the dealer in frozen-music, was down from New York, where she has an apartment now, to see Virginia again. Williamson Howe, of Philadelphia, came along for the ride. It was Eastern Air Lines, with all aboard.

A number of distinguished members are included on the Honorary Committee for the Seignior Club Horse Show to be held July 6-9, near Montebello, Quebec. Of these are: Lt. Col. F. Logie Armstrong, D. O. C., John Bassett, R. F. Porter, Brig. Gen. J. B. White, W. W. Ogilvie, J. W. Mc Connell, all of Montreal; Sir Gerald Campbell, The Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Hugh Carson of Ottawa; Daniel C. Roper, U. S. Minister to Canada; W. B. Cleland, of Troy, Ontario; Mrs. Henry Doorly, Omaha, Neb.; and William T. Noonan, of Rochester, N. Y.

Duke Tyler's "Hot Weather Suggestions" have been keeping the country-side cool, despite the tar and feathers that went flying last Saturday. William Gaines, of "In The Town and Out In The Country" columnist, of the Fauquier Democrat had the most normal slant about the whole affair.

Up at the Essex Hound Show of the puppies of the 1939 entry were many interested Essex Hunt followers last Sunday, June 25. With Anderson Fowler, M.F.H. and Kenneth B. Schley, M.F.H. (they joint-masters); were W. W. Trimpi, Douglas Dillon, H. Wilkinson, C. Newcombe, W. D. Cleland, F. W. Jones, C. S. Cutting, R. P. Gibb, F. E. Johnson, James C. Brady, Robert Tilney, Dr. Charles Woodman, Reeve Schley, Jr., Roger Mellick, C. S. Cutting, William Wright of 'you can't go wrong if you buy from Wright' fame, who walked the Best Hound of the day, Valiant; Lester Perrin and others. J. Simpson Deane, M.F.H. of Vicmeade Hunt, down in the Wil. Del. country was up to do the judging with Charles Carver.

It was Tuesday the 27th of June at three o'clock, that the fair Katharine Metcalf, daughter of the Houghton Pierce Metcalf's (Abbott's Nymph) became Mrs. David Wilder, Grace Church, in Providence R. I., the setting and the reception was gala out at "Wawaloam", 23 miles away, in Exeter Rhode Island two hours later. "Houghty" worked out the best little map for the wedding-guest travellers and the day couldn't have been livelier.

In "Breeding Briefs", Nelson Dunstan's column in the Morning Telegraph, A. B. Hancock is said to be of the opinion that the Saratoga sales averages will be about the same as last year. Maj. Louie Beard of the Whitney interest is likewise of the same opinion. Both these men keep in close touch with the yearling market and the forces which may effect the price trends.

The Bounding Louie Beard, the backbone of the Whitney racing establishments, was down in the Boyce country of the Shenandoah Valley the other day. We thought for a moment that he might be looking over the possibility of Granville's lease, and now it can be told John Hay "Jock" Whitney has gone west with the great son of Gallant Fox—Gravita. Kenneth N. Gilpin had Granville under lease from William Woodward and Mr. Whitney is taking the balance of the lease, amounting to three years. This is the first time that *Teddy blood has coursed the veins of a Llangollen sire in Kentucky.

Rosemary Ward is down in the country, just arriving for the week, to make ready the Newmary Farm menage for the coming of the bridal party and others for the nuptial moments of Bettina Belmont and Newell "Buddy" Ward. Rosemary arrived on Tuesday.

Special invitations were sent by the Committee of the Culpeper Horse Show to the Governor of Virginia, Hon. James H. Price, also Senators Carter Glass and Harry Byrd, and Representative Howard W. Smith

On the Committee for the 36th Culpeper Show are well known residents of Culpeper County, many of them prominent horsemen in P. M. Browning, Chilton W. Yowell, Arthur D. Scott, M. R. Waugh, Miss Julia Shearer, Charles B. Payne, Clyde B. Johnson, Manley Carter, W. W. Osborne, Morris Clark, Arthur Miller, R. M. Menefee, Joseph B. Fray, North Fletcher, G. Elliott Doyle, U. S. Randle, W. A. Spilman, Percy Drury, Oliver Durant, Mrs. Melville Church II and others. Mr. Church II, is president, Lewis L. Strauss is Vice-President, J. Douglas Swan manages the Racing, T. Weedon Armstrong manages the Show and John S. Thornton is the good Secretary-Treasurer.

Drifting hither and yon around the ringside at the twentieth annual Warrenton Pony Show, from grandstand heights to hillside parking spaces last Saturday, leaning against the neatly whitewashed ring and looking through the cedars were visitors many in Margaret Cotter the high-jump queen of Rockside fame; Betty Couzens and Peggy Tinker, just back from Michigan, Patricia Burnham, down from Paoli; Mrs. Charles Ray Peck, she the former Helen Horner of early Pony Show fame, was there while small daughter Peggy rode Dunnottars; Morris "Mo" Clark, M. F. H.; the W. Haggin Perrys, Mrs. Cary Jackson, Evan Shipman and Alexander Rives all up from the Keswick area; Mrs. Lester T. Hundt and Anne Dudley Hill, of Virginia Beach, the latter's Sweeper swept the show with championship honors; the Alec Mackay Smiths; the Percy Drury; Meade Palmer looking on with his mother while his father E. M. Palmer Judged; Mrs. John B. Anderson and her brother Thomas Moore; Star scribe Bob Henry; and The Chronicle's Albenmarle contributor, Judy Molter.

Little Jimmy Hamilton won the hearts of all the Warrenton Pony Show spectators. His little hunting cap just wouldn't stay put. Over the first jump it would bobble over his eyes, and then thrusting back, it would invariably leave him over the second obstacle. Still he rode and won.

Warrentonians on hand for their "Oldest Pony Show in America" last Saturday were, of course, Mrs. James Hamilton who had a busy day of it mounting little Hamiltons on famous Dunnottar ponies; (In years gone by, as Peggy Keith, Mrs. Hamilton was practically the show's finder); her sisters Betsy Keith and Mrs. Melville Bears, she with her young bairn "Stuyvie" and their father that grand old man of Warrenton Julian Keith; there too were trainer William B. "Bill" Streett, Sterling Larrabee; the George Cuttings; Mrs. Jack Hincley; Alan Day Mrs. William Rowland; the Bobby Winmills; Hugh Spilman; Henri "Tappy" de Heller; Mrs. Griswold Shaw Perkins; Harry Edmonds; Ralph McKee; Mrs. Nancy Friendly, of Jacola fame; the George Sloanes, with their tiny but sturdy "Jingle"; the Robert Wallachs; Mrs. Hubert Phipps and her brother Harris Bucklin; David Batchelder; William Gulick; the Harry Pools; the George Calverts; the Howard Smiths; the Gould Shaws; the Murray Blacks; Larry and Madeline Drake and of course those guiding lights, Hope Wallach, President; Jane Baldwin and Pickens Hamilton, vice-president; Clarke Baldwin, secretary-treasurer; and Penelope Shaw, assistant secretary; director: Sallie Spilman, Jane Calvert, Jean Rowland, Elizabeth Wilbur, Joan Emory, Virginia Brown, Emily Neilson, Larrie Bartenstien, Jay Macy, Jimmie Murphy, Barney Brittle, Scotty Thompson, Harcourt Lees, Dicky Kirkpatrick, Johnny Cutting and Dandridge Kennedy.

The "oldest pony show in America" got underway on Saturday, to a great day, and shining trophies were competed for, with donors in the Amory S. Carharts, Mrs. Nancy Friendly, Mrs. Robert K. Neilson, the Murray Blacks, the Harry Pools, the Gould Shaws, the Harry C. Groomes, Mrs. Clark T. Baldwin, whose son Clark was a great Secretary; David Batchelder, the James Sinclairs, the John Hincley's, Mrs. Baldwin Spilman, Sr., Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. George Greenhalgh and the Melville Bears—es. The Judges had a busy and difficult time. Mrs. Fontaine Maury Thraves, of Virginia Beach, W. Lodge Bowles, of Boyce and E. M. Palmer, of Arlington, did the tying.

Nancy Sloane, recently graduated from Foxcroft, has started her way as a debutante. Nancy received at a small supper dance on Monday night at "Pastureland", with her parents, the John Stones, whose place is in the Essex Hunt country land, near Far Hills, N. J.

Last winter down in Florida, Winston Guest decided it would be fun to see his colors carried on the turf at Hialeah. He and Mrs. Guest, the former Helena Mc Cann, looked about for a few days, and then struck upon Drudgery running in name of Mrs. Isobel Dodge Sloane. Her trainer felt highly elated when he had "got rid of Drudgery for $5,000." The son of Brooms—Dark Phantom, she by Light Brigade, wasted little time in turning in a winning effort for Mr. Guest. Drudgery has run 14 times for his new owner, to account for 5 wins and 8 seconds and total winnings of $8,990—rather a profitable investment, considering that the gelding had not been a winner in his previous three starts this year.

To top it all off Drudgery, now only 5, has 'chasing class as well. He ran three times last year, to finish third to Straw Boss in The Pawnee Hurdle Race; won "The Curtain" Call Purse" also over hurdles, and was an also ran to The Hour in a claiming affair over brush at Laurel last October.

Robert E. Mc Connell's Royal Marriage, developed in her earlier stages here in the hunt country by the inveterate horesman "Frenchy" Adrian Icart, who legged her up and broke her, was considered a sure thing up at Aqueduct last week, suffering from a bad ride, she did not come through. Last Monday however the daughter of Burgoo King—Broken Veil, by Black Servant made every post a winning one and drew away easily.

Just looking for horses took Christopher M. Greer, who is "at home" when he is here, in Upperville in "Old Welbourne", from New York to Virginia, to Lexington, Kentucky, to Detroit and then all the way to Montreal. There in Canada he saw Bill Ogilvie, M.F.H. of the Montreal Hunt, Col. A. T. Paterson and Mrs. Paterson and others. Chris is down in the hunt-country for a spell, but must leave again for New York tomorrow.

Mrs. Taylor Hardin has been up in New York seeing her family, while Taylor has carried on here. The Hardins are hard-working farmers these days.

Mrs. Hubert B. Phipps, whose husband successfully combines farming publishing and polo playing, has recently been appointed by Governor Price as a delegate to The Institute of Public Affairs which will convene in Charlottesville on July 2nd and continue through the fifteenth. Mrs. Phipps, who will represent the eighth district, is the Associate Editor of both The Fauquier Democrat and the Virginia Breeder which Mr. Phipps owns, edits and publishes in Warrenton.

"The Retreat" of 665 acres, located near Warrenton, in the Casanova Hunt country, was recently purchased by Miss Mary Maxwell of "Dunhollow Farm", where she has many a fine hunter.

Gridley Barrows, who is a graduate of Harvard, has been appointed Senior Councillor at Farmhill Camp, near Leesburg. The Camp opens June 30, today, and is under the Head-Master-Ship of Edward C. Willcox, well known in the secondary-school field.

War Admiral will stand at Faraway Farms, his birthplace, near Lexington. The son of Man o'War, who raced from two to five, winning 21 races out of 26 starts, to earn $273,240 was retired when a slight leg ailment did not respond to treatment in manner to warrant extensive training. War Admiral's fee, for the 1940 season, will be $1,500, and his box will be in the same barn of his great sire's.

Joseph W. Brown's Brown Prince III is an Argentine-bred. He was slated to get racing on the flat but his imperfect pedigree was turned down for registration. In consequence he was tried over hurdles. Such an apt pupil he was that within a few weeks of his first schooling he went out to win by five lengths, at Aqueduct.

Continuing the feather motif, of current favor with Virginians, Bettina Belmont, grand-daughter of the late August Belmont, carrying a large bouquet of ostrich plumes, tripped lightly to the altar of the Emmanuel Church in Middleburg yesterday, on the arm of her step-father Arthur White. Fulfilling her engagement with Newell J. Ward, Jr., and supported by her two cousins, Catherine and Helen Hulburt as bridesmaids, Bettina looked lovely in white chiffon as she middle-aided it to the gladiola covered altar. Her bridesmaids were in grey chiffon with garlands of ivy in their hair. The Church was jam packed, and so was the Arthur White's Chilton where guests shuffled and elbowed as cameras flashed and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Buddy Ward shook hands with guests by the score.

If you have ever talked to Evan Shipman, noted scribe of the trotters you might hear something of the very unusual language of the followers of this sport. Here are some of the terms in common usage: lead pad—a tout; persuader—a whip; tail setter—a driver; side wheeler—a pacing horse using a lateral gait; connect—to win a big race; cut the legs off—a driver can be fined for this, cutting in too quickly after passing another horse; fire wagon—a sulky or light carriage which the horse pulls; counterfeit—a horse of not much value; grabbing—a horse challenging the leader; stall dog—a groom; top jock—the head trainer ride or skin the rail—means stick close to the inside rail.

The two July brides of the Elkridge-Harford and Greenspring Valley country of Baltimore, Virginia Mc Intosh and Betty Thom were entertained the past week-end with no end of the round of festivities Virginia steps off on July 5 with "C. T." Williams and the two were guests of a cocktail party in their honor given last Saturday by the William Caseys. Virginia is the sister of J. Rieman Mc Intosh, Secretary of the renowned Maryland Hunt Cup.

Such a disturbance the Arthur White trained Mother Carey and Full of Run have caused Middleburgers. Everyone seemed to be touting these maidens, the latter a Rumantel owned by Dr. A. C. Randolph and both ran out of the money. The racing was on the Aqueduct strip.

It was but a fleeting visit that Mrs. Rigan McKinney paid us last week. Jean who stopped with Silvie Hazard, is up on the Island and is busy tennising these days. There are her Ibn. B. Pat and Barney Google summering well.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Beatty Brown of Upperville, left last week for New York, when word was received of the sudden death of Mrs. Brown's father, Edward Wise, of Greenwich, Conn. Mr. Wise, a partner in the brokerage firm of J. S. Bache and Co., died at the Greenwich Hospital after a one week illness at the age of 68. Widely known in business circles, Mr. Wise was a former President of the United Cigar Stores of America, and lived in Stamford, Conn. Also surviving him is Mrs. Brown's mother. Mr. Wise was a member of the Fairview and the Westchester Country Clubs.

CASUALTY LIST

Jockey E. Roberts talked Jack Skinner into letting him put a leg over A. Rigg III's Lateral Pass in the steeplechase at Delaware last Friday. Only after deliberation did Mr. Skinner grant his Jockey permission for Roberts is under contract to to Mr. Skinner. At the third Lateral Pass came crashing down and Roberts is convalescing with broken ribs. Redlander won this outing. This son of Laplander is owned by Bayliss Grimes, though he ran last Friday in the name of John Bosley. Redlander is the black gelding with a blazed face, hunted throughout last season by Mr. Grimes with the Middleburg pack.

Harry L. Straus, joint-Master of the Carrollton Hounds, with kennels near Emory Shurch, in Carroll County.

Md. is "tied up" in the Union Memorial Hospital with a broken leg, just below the hip. Mr. Straus was just getting upon, to be about, a young one, when the horse plunged and bucked and sent his would be rider flying. This accident took place three weeks ago, but the Carrollton M.F.H.'s leg is still riding high in a tension weighted cast.

Anne Shaffer, daughter of Mrs. Eva Shaffer Spilman, is in Palm Beach, following an operation. Miss Shaffer attended Fermata during the past school year.

Miss Sue Fuller, regular rider of the Quail Roost Stable's Championship calibre show-string, including Inky and Lucky Buck, owned by the George Watts Hills of North Carolina, is all bound up with a cast. Miss Fuller came a cropper schooling on the Virginia Beach, shortly after the Deep Run Show and has a broken collar-bone. She is sporting one of those casts that carries your arm up in the air like one catching rings on a merry-go-round ride.

Miss Jane Brooks of Boyce, Va. and Chicago on a picnic down the Shenandoah River struck a snag and came up with one mangled hand. The member is on the mend.

Margaret Cotter was going short last Saturday, at the Warrenton Pony Show and the tetnus shot had made her arm pain. A rusty nail had pierced the well known Rocksie owner's foot.

Margaret Hills, of Washington, out at the Pony Show, was all bepowdered and it was the complaint of poison-ivy.

Bryan Gentry, of the Gentry trimvirate, who so capably manage Arthur B. Hancock's Ellerslie Farm was in a bad motor-car smash last Saturday, June 17. Mr. Gentry's driver rammed the back of a stalled truck. He is recovering as well as can be expected with broken ribs, chest injuries and head lacerations.

Dr. Robert E. Ferneyhough, well known Warrenton veterinarian is coming about rapidly these days. His broken ribs and rather serious and painful injuries to his back suffered when a colt on the "Grove Farm" of the Harry Pools' fell with him about two weeks ago are about mended. He was the first Doctor to reach Peggy Hamilton in the Warrenton Pony Show Ring.

F. Moran "Mike" Mc Conihe, the busy and active Secretary of the Washington Horse Show is going short these days—crutches have got him—an operation on his foot brought him down. Mike won't be stalking about on his heels so much anymore now.

The Stanley Green, Jr., champion pony Queen of Sheba, 1938 tri-color wearer of the Warrenton Pony Show veteran of a thousand clean performances, with four large trunks filled with some three hundred trophies gathered in her campaigning, cut herself down schooling for the Warrenton event. Thrice winner of the Grand Championship at Warrenton's "oldest pony show", The Queen grabbed herself severely.
